

HOLY INVASION OF PRIVACY BADMAN! WHAT DID I DO TO DESERVE THIS? COMING EXCLUSIVELY TO THE PLAYSTATION® NETWORK

Santa Ana, CA (June 24, 2009) – NIS America has announced today that “Holy Invasion of Privacy Badman! What did I do to deserve this?”, also known simply as “Badman”, will be coming exclusively to the PlayStation® Network. The decision for going all-digital has come after surprisingly strong support for the digital demo from gamers nationwide. With its fun, absorbing content and relatively small size, Badman is an ideal candidate for PSN. Gamers will be able to log on to their PSN accounts and download the full version with ease this July.

As a critically acclaimed strategy game in Japan, Badman will make its presence felt in the west this July. From its retro-classic art style to its simple, yet intuitive game play, Badman is the anti-trend of games today. However, for players looking for a refreshingly new game experience, Badman offers more than plenty.

About Holy Invasion of Privacy, Badman!

The goal of the game is clean and simple: As the God of Destruction, you must create a dungeon that is difficult and powerful enough to fend off human hero invasions. The dungeon must have a self-sustaining ecosystem, so players must strategically dig and create a dungeon with a balanced food chain. Periodically, human heroes will invade the dungeon in order to bring peace and harmony to the world, but they are your enemies. You must destroy the heroes before they capture the Overlord and take him back to the surface.
