

Poem entries.

With so many emotions, I'll burst.
And the pains I feel are the worst.
Remember the sweet bliss.
Like the Maiden's kiss.
You never forget your first.

"An Angel's voice, I hear you beside me.
You sing a Hymn, A song of beauty
A tale of battles fought and loves lost.
I feel my spirit strengthen by your words of valor.
The Hero will conquer his foe
A guardian of his people
But no war will be waged without it's toll.
A woman alone, Her Family gone.

Will you be safe tonight?
In times past you confide in me
Nightmares of your childhood
Your voice gives me the courage.
I will be your twilight guardian.
I will protect your dreams.
I will be by your side
Always."

MishaLyner, find my song
I will love you whether I
Look nine or nineteen.

Aurica's Thoughts

Is this perhaps a fault of mine?

The fires ensnared the town I once lived.
All was taken away from my childish grasp
Memories in the nightmares that often replay.

Can I perhaps be worthy of the title?
The holy maiden's name I so very long for.
Nothing more than a lowly class D.
How can I hope to ever amount to much.

Am I just a nuisance to the Church?
Without Diquility I would die a dismal death.
Perhaps it was my destiny to fade to dust.
Don Leon, why do you still have hope?

Though Lyner is dim he always trusts me,
Believing that I too have true Reyvateil power.
Though myself always doubt my existence.
Was it not my fault my world was destroyed?

By Lyner's side my hope is returning.
Always moving forward without a glance behind.
Striving for a return to a world without darkness.
His beliefs teaching me how to once again trust.

Don Leon can I really do this?
Combat the virus Mir and end this pain?
Do I have a chance at being the Holy Maiden?
With Lyner's trust perhaps I can!

Sea of Death

The world drowned by water
Earth taken

All ending
Metafalica our hope
Hear our cries

Grant us land
A land of song and magic
Save us all

A Goddess
She bars us from utopia
Woe to us

The Grand Bell
A new life for the people
A new hope

We cry war
A war unto the Goddess
For our fate

We will make
Our own Metafalica
Our own land

It begins
A story that will change everything
And everyone

I wish to tell you my feelings.
The one who saved me from my pain
My suffering
My hatred.
After hundreds of years, I've found a piece of love It doesn't shine too bright that it burns my eyes
But it cleanses my soul of all my sins Someday... Come with me.
Take my hand
Look in my eyes
And...
Let me sing you a song

A love song

One that tells you how hard my heart is beating
How many tears are dripping from my eyes
And why I give this purified kiss to your lips,
my love Now Today I give you my entire being.

Let my song reach you...
